

Professor André Thevenon is in charge of PRM teaching and training at Lille University Faculty of Medicine. He created and still serves as Head of the PRM department at Lille University Hospital and founded the reference centre for neuromuscular diseases.

André Thevenon is the ISPRM delegate for SOFMER (the French PRM society), the Editor of ISPRM News and Views and he holds the chair of the ISPRM publications and communications committee.